Lifewire uses cookies to provide you with a great user experience. Using Lifewire, you agree to use cookies. Mobcrush is a free service for broadcasting on multiple streaming platforms at the same time. Thanks to its ability to reach numerous audiences of different services at the same time, Mobcrush streams have the potential to reach over 160 million viewers, an estimated 75 percent of the U.S. gaming audience. Mobcrush connects to numerous social and streaming platforms and allows one user to stream all of them at the same time. Chat rooms and comment sections from all connected accounts are combined during live broadcast and can be managed from official Mobcrush apps. The service is completely free for those in use. New users can log in to Mobcrush using existing Facebook, Google, Twitch, Twitter, or Mixer accounts, or by creating a new Mobcrush account manually on the official website or apps. Mobcrush livestreams can be streamed on the following social and streaming platforms: TwitchMixerYouTubeTwitterFacebook When streaming on Facebook, specific Facebook pages can be selected in addition to the user profile. All broadcasts will also be displayed on the user's main channel on Mobcrush's website and apps. Mobcrush allows streaming mobile, console and PC video games in addition to non-video games related content such as vlogging and podcasts. Mobcrush smartphone apps have the ability to transmit mobile gameplay built in, while those who use streaming software, such as OBS Studio on PC or Mac, can stream all types of games. Mobcrush has official apps for iOS and Android smart devices. The iOS Mobcrush app supports iPhone, iPod touches and iPad running iOS 9.0 and up, while the Mobcrush Android app supports smartphones and tablets with Android 5.0 and up. Windows and Mac users are encouraged to stream to Mobcrush, such as OBS Studio. This process is very similar to how one streams into Twitch with OBS Studio. There was an official Mobcrush app for macOS, but this was discontinued. Mobcrush runs its own advertising program called Go Live Get Paid, which matches advertisers and specific marketing campaigns with streamers. Streamers can view active campaigns in the Mobcrush dashboard and apply to turn one of their regular threads into a sponsored stream. Sponsored thread may include actual video or advertising of images that are played during the broadcast, or a promotional script that must be read by the streamer. The amount paid for each sponsored stream depending on the total number of streamer subscribers in all related accounts. The more social followings, the more money advertisers will be willing to pay for promotions. In addition to Mobcrush's own monetization program, those streaming on the platform can also make money using third-party such as Patreon, to receive monthly payments from viewers, or payment services, PayPal and Venmo for a one-time donation. Mobcrush's Go Live Get Paid program is only available to U.S. streamers, so international broadcasters will have to use alternatives to make money from their streams. Requesting donations in cryptocurrencies such as Bitcoin is another way to get paid on Mobcrush, like selling unique items or selling products through affiliate links. Many of the methods used by Twitch streamers to make money are also used by those on Mobcrush. Mobcrush supports integration with the popular video game streaming service Twitch, but it should be noted that Twitch requires all of their Twitch partners and partners to remain exclusive to their platform. Essentially, if you partner with Twitch or Affiliate you can't use Mobcrush simultaneously to stream to rival live gaming services such as Mixer and YouTube. Twitch streamers who have not yet become a partner or partner can stream on Twitch and other platforms at the same time without consequences. Those who want to become a professional with their streaming eventually need to decide if they want to stream on all their platforms with Mobcrush or work towards the Twitch partnership and all the benefits that the program offers. Thank you for letting us know! Tell us why! Raz does his part to fight childhood obesity-and works up the sweat in a process-by running in a 5K race for charity. Participation should not come in the form of a donation; Finding ways to contribute to charity can come in many forms, and participating in a 5K or food drive or donating your time can enrich your life as well. notes Coach Devin. There's something big about participating. Not everyone has the extra income to donate, but anyone can save a few hours, and in return you will help raise awareness and reap the feeling of joy from these moments. One of the titles confirmed as part of the EA Play Live presentation is Star Wars: Squadron. EA plans to show gameplay footage of the fighter dogfight game for the first time. As for other appearances in games we haven't learned yet: Further details about specific titles will be revealed over the coming weeks. We'd put good money into FIFA 21 being part of the presentation - maybe even with the next generation of console footage (hopefully). We also hope to learn more about Battlefield 6, which has been heavily rumored lately. And that we'll get an update on bioware of the next RPG in the Dragon Age series. Woodleywonderworks/CC-BY-2.0 Games are events in which participants take part for fun, learning or competition. Games often have goals, structure and rules to announce results and winners. Many games, such as sports, rely on physical prowess, while others have mental and psychological stimulation. Games have been part of every culture since ancient times. They help facilitate learning and stimulate children's development. As an educational tool, games teach children how to master certain skills, overcome obstacles and achieve goals. Adults also win when they play games, as this frees them from work and commitments. Games also help to maintain social connections with other people. Although usually seen as leisure, some games are held by people as professional professions. Microsoft 4K, HDR, Ultra HD Blu-ray-packing Xbox One X console here, but is it worth your cash?
